

If we the public are willing to pay for satellite services, the provider (XM Radio), should have the right to supply any and all requested programming.